Macroeconomic & Corporate News

Arrivals must declare cash above JD10,000 — customs department

Travellers entering the Kingdom with more than JD10,000 in cash or currency must report to the customs department. The National Anti-Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Committee on Monday, approved amendments to Article No. 3 of Anti-Money Laundering Law, reducing the amount to be declared to customs from JD15,000 to JD10,000, the Jordan News Agency, Petra, reported. In a statement, the Jordan Customs Department called on all arrivals to the Kingdom, through airports and border crossings, to declare money that exceeds the limit approved by the committee.

GAM grants tourist restaurants 50% exemption on entertainment fees

The Greater Amman Municipality has decided to exempt tourist restaurants from a 50 per cent of entertainment fees, and owners who have already paid the fees for this year will be compensated upon renewal. During a remote session held recently and chaired by the Mayor of Amman Yousef Shawarbeh, the municipality's council decided to exempt tourist restaurants from the public entertainment fees by 50 per cent for the year 2020 and 25 per cent for the year 2021, according to a municipality statement. The restaurant and cafes sector has recently resumed dine-in services after a two-week ban that cost the sector more than JD20 million, according to President of Restaurant Owners Association Omar Awwad. He said at the time that it was an "unfair" decision to target the dine-in services while allowing hospital waiting areas and malls to remain open. "This is a gesture by the government but I am afraid it is a small one as these fees are only paid by tourist restaurants, not the whole sector," Awwad told The Jordan Times on Monday.
